#1

Debbie Franchuk

RN, Co-Owner, Director of Care

Home Instead Calgary · Presenting sponsor

Booth 311

"As a nurse who built Nurse Directed Services: what do your caregivers do when a client with dementia goes missing?"

#2

Johnna Lowther

Managing Director

Caregivers Alberta · Silver

Booth 519

"Your book title is basically our design brief: KinTag is for the moment someone living with dementia can't say who they are."

#4

Steve Kovacic

VP & Chief Innovation Officer; ACCA Vice Chair

Good Samaritan Society · Breakout & Awards

No booth listed

"You asked for innovators ready to test in senior care. This needs no integration, battery or Wi-Fi."

#5

Lisa Wauchope

VP, Education & Excellence

AGE Inc. · Awards (Innovator of the Year)

Booth 219

"GPA teaches people to pause and respond calmly. KinTag's 'See. Pause. Tap.' is the same idea for the public."

#5

Olivia Mouriopoulos

Education Program Specialist – Engagement

AGE Inc. · Awards (Innovator of the Year)

Booth 219

"Your dementia-friendly communities work is exactly the 'community safety net' idea behind KinTag."
